Musculoskeletal Care For Patients of All Ages

WHETHER YOU'RE A SEASONED ATHLETE WITH A TORN ROTATOR CUFF OR AN active senior needing a knee replacement, Utah Orthopaedics physicians and staff provide the expertise, experience, care and compassion you seek. Our orthopaedic surgeons are board-certified and fellowship-trained in all aspects of musculoskeletal care.

Dann C. Byck, MD, specializes in sports medicine, arthroscopic and reconstructive surgery of the shoulder, elbow and knee, and total shoulder replacement. A Master Instructor for the Arthroscopy Association of North America, he has trained orthopaedic surgeons worldwide and published and lectured on treatment of these conditions. He is director of the Utah Sports Medicine and Orthopaedic Center and has been team MD for local high schools and the Utah Grizzlies Professional Hockey, Weber State Hockey and Ogden Outlaws Soccer teams.

Jeffrey J. Rocco, MD, specializes in orthopaedic foot and ankle reconstruction, lower extremity trauma, and total joint replacement for hips, knees and ankles. The first to perform ankle replacement surgery in Weber County, he also offers non-operative treatments and uses minimally invasive surgical techniques. He is a master fitter of ski boots, shoes and orthotics.

Our care team also includes Francis X. Yubero, MD, board-certified by the American Board of Physical Medicine and Rehabilitation; nurse practitioner Brandon Park; physician assistant Alexandra Rocco; physical therapists

Jonathan Wheelwright and Timothy Whitaker; athletic trainers Kelly Toomer and Jessica Burningham; and an awesome office staff. Their contribution is essential to helping patients reclaim their active, healthy lives.

Our "do no harm" philosophy applies to patients and their environment. We recently built Utah's only physician-owned Platinum LEED Certified medical facility, honored with the Utah Green Business Award. "Our accelerated therapy protocols address both body and mind, and such whole healing happens best in a healthy building. It's our mission and duty to create a space that helps return our patients to their normal lives quickly and comfortably," says Dr. Byck. "Our state-of-the-art operative, non-operative and post-operative techniques give our patients the best possible pain-free function. We want them well-healed and back in the game."

Utah Orthopaedics is affiliated with Ogden Regional Medical Center, McKay-Dee Hospital, and Mt. Ogden, McKay and Davis Surgical Centers. We serve patients of all ages in Utah, Idaho and Wyoming. Ask around; you'll find it's definitely worth the drive to see us.
